GOP Leaders Peg Goldwater Over Rocky In State

Senator Strongest Candidate, County Chairman Poll Finds

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Nearly a third of California's 58 Republican county chairmen peg Sen. Barry Goldwater as the strongest potential GOP candidate against President John F. Kennedy.

Roughly the same percentage predict the presidential nomination will fall to the Arizona senator when Republicans gather in San Francisco next July 13 for their national convention.

The Goldwater sentiment was pronounced among responses to a recent questionnaire.

County Counsel To Leave Post At Year's End

E. Warren McGuire resigned today as county counsel, effective Dec. 31.

County supervisors accepted the resignation with regret, also expressed by the county clerk, auditor-controller and administrator.

McGuire recommended his assistant, Douglas J. Maloney, succeed him. However, the board deferred action for a week on suggestion of Chairman William D. Fusselman.

McGuire said he will join the San Rafael law firm of Bagshaw, Martinelli, Weissich and Jordan.

He said his 11 years of county employment as deputy district attorney, assistant county counsel and county counsele were "most rewarding."

Maloney was recommended on a basis of three years of county service, and prior work as deputy county counsel in Sonoma County and legal adviser to the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors.

Fusselman termed the period of McGuire's service in Marin "most wholesome association."

Fusselman said that while he had been "delighted" with Maloney's work and would be "happy to go along" if the board wished to decide on the new county counsel immediately, he had been asked by telephone by an unidentified resident—"a businessman, not a lawyer" he made clear—for a new city manager to be hired.

Robert R. Laughead, chairman of the Committee of Five, said after the meeting, "with the present climate of the townspeople it will be difficult for a new city manager to be hired."

ONE ON FILE

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks, in a four and one-half page statement of the council majority, said the council accepted Almcrants' terms of resignation.

"That is, at some date after his successor has been installed and in the council's judgment, satisfactorily oriented, but in no event prior to Jan. 1."

In reply to why they thought Goldwater would make the stronger Kennedy opponent, the county chairmen stuck closely to the same line.

In a typical reply, Joseph H. Hughes of Auburn, Placer County chairman, said Goldwater offered "the only real choice the country and our party has on the constitutional side in some years."

Dennis E. Carpenter of Costa Mesa, Orange County chairman, said Republicans feel that the senator can win against Kennedy and Rockefeller cannot.

"I urgently favor the Maloney appointment," said Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

"Since this position could be regarded as a plum, the board should be on the alert against any pressure. I haven't seen anyone else in the county with Maloney's proven capacity, both personal ability and ability to work."

He said today: "We are going right to work to get a qualified successor promptly. This is the only reason we accepted the resignation. . . . I have had one application on file since 72 hours after the Sept. 30 uproar."

"In an endeavor to bring harmony into the operation of city government I feel that I must take affirmative action," Almcrants said on reading his resignation.

He said he feels he has done a good and honorable job for the city over the past 15 years

Not Leaving Until Successor Oriented

By BRUCE COLEMAN

A. E. Almcrants, for the second time in less than a month, resigned last night as city manager of Mill Valley.

This time, Almcrants set his own terms.

City councilman William M. Secor immediately moved that the resignation be accepted and, likewise with rapidity, councilman George Blackwell seconded the motion.

Statements were then made by the four-man council majority; councilman Michael Wornum, speaking for the minority, and Robert D. Huber, speaking for the Mill Valley citizens committee of five.

Ten minutes were allotted to the audience to speak pro and con on the motion and the council then voted 4-1, Wornum voting "no," to accept the resignation.

SEATS FILLED

The council chamber was bulging with people, most seats were filled by 7:15 p.m. for the 8 o'clock meeting. Fire Chief Leslie Armager refused people entrance to the hall at 7:30 p.m. Many stood on the staircase and some in a small hall directly behind the council dais. The crowd was estimated at 250.

Although Almcrants' resignation is to become effective "no sooner than Dec. 31" and after indoctrination of a successor, the citizens committee has indicated hope there will be no successor until next April's city election.

Cardinal Suenens was the first council father to go on record with a question that has been current since the opening of the council's second session last month—why not women?

From the first ecumenical council in 325 A.D. until the opening of the second session of the present council, the gathering of church fathers was an all-male affair.

Under canon law, only churchmen with the rank of bishop or higher, could be called to take part in a council. Since women are barred from the Catholic priesthood, none could ever become eligible for a voice in a council.

It was still highly doubtful that a woman would ever be allowed to talk during a council debate but Pope Paul VI has, in effect, opened the door for them to come in and listen.

The pontiff recently ruled that representatives of the catholic laity should be invited to the council with the same privileges accorded to observers from non-catholic churches attending the meetings.

Since women comprise at least half of the catholic laity, the ruling poised what some conservatives regard as the thin edge of the wedge under the all-male tradition.

He said he feels he has done a good and honorable job for the city over the past 15 years

SPACEMAN OF FUTURE — Capt. George J. Marrett of Novato; his wife, Jan, and 3-year-old son, Randy, receive word that the Marin flier has been chosen to start training to become an astronaut. Any trip into space, however, is at least two years away for him.

'DREAM COMES TRUE' HAFB Flier Makes Astronaut Training

By THERON A. NEWELL

Capt. George J. Marrett of Novato is one of 10 Air Force officers selected to begin training to become astronauts.

He received his pilot's training in Texas and took advanced F-101 training at Valdosta, Ga., in 1959. Since then he has been stationed at Hamilton.

He is married and has a 3-year-old son, Randy.

"I have been very fortunate to have spent my entire flying career at Hamilton," he said. He paid tribute to his commander, Col. Marvin Good.

Asked if he had an ambition to be the first man to set foot on the moon or some other planet, his eyes brightened.

"You take these things as they come. I first must become a test pilot. I may be able to go into some kind of a trip up there."

Marrett said the program called for him to spend one year in study and training at Edwards. Then he will be a test pilot for from one to four years.

His wife, Jan, said "I don't have any ambitions to go into space myself, but I would like to get an F-101 ride."

Marrett said none of the wives of the F-101 pilots in the 84th Squadron has ever received a ride in one of the supersonic jet fighters.

Reed School Tax Voting Is Moderate

Voting on the proposed $1 boost in the Reed School District's operating tax minimum got off to a moderate start today as low clouds brought a threat it may rain before polls closed at 7 p.m.

There were 3,500 voters eligible to take part in deciding a tax increase from $2.25 to $3.25 per $100 assessed valuation. The much debated issue was recommended by a citizens committee.

A check of polling places just before noon today showed that 11 to 12 per cent of those eligible had already voted.

Supt. Edward C. Pino was hoping for a good turn-out, but he did not think the tax measure would bring the same vote the district received Jan. 22 when more than 50 per cent voted on a $2,875,000 bond and state loan construction program. That needed a 66 per cent majority and received a 79 per cent majority.

The January election was consolidated with the special congressional election.

Negro Bid Rejected

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — City officials rejected today an ultimatum by integration leaders that Negroes be hired as policemen or the city would face renewed mass demonstrations protesting segregation.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Jet Test Fails, Killing Seven

SALISBURY, England (UPI) — A British Aircraft Corp. BAC-1-11 jet airliner on a test and demonstration flight crashed and burned here today, killing the seven persons aboard.

The plane was being tested for British United Airways at the time.

Eyewitnesses said the plane's engines cut out and the aircraft lunged to the ground, exploding on impact. Wreckage was spread over 200 yards.

British United Airways has 10 1-11s on order, but this one was for test and demonstration purposes.

Tito Foes Get To Guarded Suite

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two young Yugoslav refugees last night worked their way up to the top-security hotel floor where Yugoslav President Tito is staying.

The intrusion brought U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and New York Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy to the scene.

Earlier, five refugees split away from an anti-Tito demonstration in front of the Waldorf-Astoria. A knife was pulled by one of the Tito party, but no arrests were made. The refugees fled.

Half an hour later Aleksander Karilanovic, 23, of the Bronx and Dragutin Mundjer, 22, of Queens, were booked on charges of disorderly conduct after making their way to Tito's suite.

Sheriff, Assailant Die In Battle

KINGMAN, Ariz. (UPI)—Mohave County Sheriff Robert L. Tarr was shot to death yesterday in a blazing, western-style gun battle with an assailant he managed to kill with a burst of gunfire before collapsing.

Tarr, 55-year-old father of nine, had been summoned to an agricultural inspection station on U.S. 93 four miles north of here to investigate a stolen car.

Witnesses to the shooting said the gunman, Donald Cline Carpenter, 29, opened fire.

Tarr, who had been sheriff for less than a year, fired four times at his killer before slumping to the ground, mortally wounded. He died of a bullet wound in the chest.

He said the Dunoon Town Council had contributed to the situation by not providing recreational facilities for the men.

U.S. Irish Friendship
DUBLIN (UPI) — Prime Minister Sean Lemass, recently returned from a visit to the United States, says "the atmosphere of cordiality and friendliness toward Ireland there was very noticeable."

Antara said the air-to-ground missile could be launched from long-range Soviet-supplied TU-16 bombers and the air-to-air missile could be fired from Soviet fighters.

Reporting to the nation on his trip, Lemass said in a television speech that prospects for valuable business ties with the United States are good.

SUBPOENAS FOR STEEL COMPANIES

Prices May Be Subject But
No One Will Say

NEW YORK (UPI) — At least seven big steel companies have been subpoenaed by a federal grand jury in New York under mysterious circumstances. It was reported that the inquiry concerned steel prices.

However, none of the steel firms openly said so, and the Justice Department in Washington declined comment.

A spokesman for one company, Republic Steel Corp., said the subpoenas "took the industry by surprise."

APRIL CLASH

An across-the-board increase in prices by most major steel producers within 48 hours in April 1962 erupted into an epic business-government clash. The $6 a ton hike was rescinded under White House pressure.

Among other things, a grand jury investigation was launched but nothing came of it.

President John F. Kennedy expressed concern earlier this month over selective increases last spring and this fall covering about 70 per cent of all steel products.

Kennedy said the situation was being watched very carefully, along with markups in other industries, but said nothing about any formal investigation.

Increases in which the White House acquiesced last spring were limited to steel sheets, used heavily by automobile and appliance makers, and steel strip.

GRADUAL SPREAD

They were initiated by Wheeling Steel Corp., the 11th ranking company, and gradually spread across the industry.

Another round of increases started in September applied to oil field pipe, bars, plate, structural shapes and semi-finished steel sold by primary producers to processors, plus a few other products.

Some of these increases fluctuated from company to company before settling into a well defined pattern.

Besides Republic, the third-ranking producer, companies confirming receipt of subpoenas yesterday included U.S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Corp., National Steel Corp., Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., and Wheeling.

All except Wheeling are among the big eight producers.

Inland Steel Co., a holdout with Kaiser Steel Corp. against the general price increase of April 1962, said last night it had not been served.

Indonesia Missiles

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — The Indonesian air force now has air-to-ground and air-to-air guided missiles, the official Antara news agency announced today.

Antara said the air-to-ground missile could be launched from long-range Soviet-supplied TU-16 bombers and the air-to-air missile could be fired from Soviet fighters.

In relation to the adult population, the District of Columbia has the greatest number of college graduates, 14 per cent.

BIG LIFT UNDERWAY — Troops of the Second Armored Division from Fort Hood, Tex., board a C-135 jet

Big Overseas Troop Airlift Starts Today

BERGSTROM AFB, Texas (UPI) — The Army and Air Force joined hands today in a historic demonstration of the United States' power to throw a quick fighting punch overseas.

The first of more than 200 air transports carrying the 2nd Armored Division to Germany in Exercise Big Lift left the runway at Bergstrom AFB near Austin just before midnight.

Minutes later other Military Air Transport Service planes took off from Gray AFB at Killeen, Connally AFB at Waco, and Sheppard AFB at Wichita Falls with other troops of the Fort Hood-based 2nd Armored and supporting units.

The airlift, largest in U.S.

military history, continues until Thursday afternoon. Then the 2nd Armored will tangle with the 3rd Armored Division in mock nuclear war. The 3rd Armored, which plays the role of invader, is already in Europe.

As five troop-laden transports filled the air every hour from Texas bases, about 160 tactical planes were leaving from two bases in Maine—Loring AFB and Dow AFB.

U.S. officials have said the major aim of Big Lift is to demonstrate to this country's allies and to the Soviets an ability to reinforce swiftly the forces facing the Communists along the Iron Curtain in West Europe.

The exercise is the largest long-range airlift of armed men in history. Its total cost is estimated at 20 million dollars, including payment for 6.5 million gallons of fuel needed for air transports alone.

Transatlantic transfer of soldiers and supporting troops will take 63 hours and 40 minutes.

Sea movement would take about four weeks.

Toll Bridge Bonds

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California toll bridge authority will open bids tomorrow for 75 million dollars in revenue bonds to pay off outstanding bonds on the Carquinez Strait toll bridges and provide for a new four-lane approach to the Benicia-Martinez bridge.

Selassie Bids For Truce In North Africa

ALGIERS (UPI) — New fighting was reported today on the Algerian-Moroccan border as Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie met with President Ahmed Ben Bella in an attempt to arrange a truce.

Official Moroccan sources reported in Marrakech that Moroccan troops repulsed two new Algerian attacks. One was launched before dawn today at the post of Hassi Taghoucht, about 55 miles from the Moroccan city of Taouz.

They said 150 Algerian troops attacked 20 Moroccans defending the post but were beaten back. In another area, Valgerians attacked the post of Oussada, but Morocco said they too were forced to retreat.

Selassie, the 72-year-old "Lion of Judah," met Ben Bella in the second stage of his attempt to end the undeclared border war.

Diplomatic sources in Paris said the emperor is seeking to bring Algerian and Moroccan leaders together for a summit conference, perhaps somewhere along the border area.

The action, announced yesterday by the State Department, is a direct challenge to Ngo Dinh Nhu, brother of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem and reportedly the behind-the-scenes ruler in Saigon.

Big U.S. Buildup Since Cuba Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Swift fighters are poised in Florida. Navy planes watch for large-hatch ships. High-flying U-2s cover the island at least once a week.

It is a year to the day since the Cuban missile crisis peaked, and the United States has spent the time beefing up its military forces—particularly in Florida and the Caribbean.

The buildup is also global.

In the fall of 1962 the Air Force had about 180 liquid-fuel intercontinental ballistic missiles in place. Now about 460 are combat ready.

The Navy had nine Polaris missile submarines. Now 13 are in commission.

The Soviet Union and Cuba face a much stronger and more alert United States than they did on the night of Oct. 22, 1962, when President John F. Kennedy declared to the nation: "I have directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventuality."

Through the summer of 1962 the United States was aware of a military buildup in Communist Cuba, but its proportions and offensive nature came as a surprise.

Today, Soviet military forces on the island number something over 7,000—about two-thirds last fall's top strength—and "those remaining are largely engaged in training and advising Cuban units," according to the Pentagon.

Still in Cuba is a formidable array of up-to-date Soviet-supplied tanks, artillery, field rockets, MIG fighters, missile-equipped patrol boats and anti-aircraft missiles.

The latest intelligence information indicates there has been no Soviet effort to reintroduce offensive missiles or bombers.

LONDON (UPI)—Lord Home, in his first major statement since becoming prime minister, said last night he looks forward to "real cooperation" with the Soviet Union in negotiating settlements to cold war issues.

Home denied that his selection as prime minister, which climaxed one of the most bitter fights in conservative history, had split the party, and he paid a tribute to R. A. Butler, who had been favored to succeed retired Premier Harold Macmillan but agreed to join Home's cabinet as foreign secretary.

Net Depot Project Is Called Exciting, But Slow Starter

The oceanographic research center at the former Tiburon Net Depot was described yesterday in San Rafael as "a New Frontier type of thing."

John Crawford, head of the oceanographic office for the U. S. Bureau of Mines, said, "There will be an exciting future to it." However, he warned there would be a "slow and meager" start.

Crawford, whose headquarters are at the Tiburon depot, spoke at a joint meeting of the San Rafael Rotary Club and Marin County Development Assn.

Also speaking at the meeting at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant was Gerald B. Talbot, director of the Tiburon Marin Laboratory for the U. S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife.

Crawford outlined three projects the bureau of mines would undertake.

First is exploration of the deep sea and the continental shelf to determine the value of mineral wealth. Such equipment as the oil drilling rig being used by Shell Oil Co. off Point Reyes would be adapted for this project.

The bureau will also investigate means to rid San Francisco Bay of oily scum which comes from waste fuel discharges of large ships and is found on some Marin County beaches.

The third project of the bureau will be experiments to find how elements can be separated and extracted from sea water. Crawford said almost all known elements are contained in sea water.

The Tiburon depot will depend on services of both light and heavy industries and employ between 75 and 100 persons in two or three years, Crawford said.

Approved a tentative subdivision map for eight acres in Del Mesa Heights on Laurel Grove Kentfield. It divided each lot would be 4,300 square feet.

Approved a Standard Oil service station on an 88-acre lot on the south side of Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, opposite Montego Key Bel Marin Keys.

Continued until Nov. 4 a request by Broderick Investment Co. to build 81 apartment units on Alameda Del Prado and Highway 101, Loma Verde. The land is directly across the highway from Nave Lanes.

Continued until Nov. 4 Al Delucco's request for extension of Commercial zoning to two and one-half acres at 5933 and 5947 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, just north of Loma Verde. The front is zoned commercial but the rear portion is agricultural.

Granted Grace Chew of Carlton Kitchen, 252 Almont Boulevard, Tamapais Junction, permission to convert four business offices in the rear to a small dining room.

Approved Mariner Oaks, a six-unit apartment project on the south face of Red Hill in Toluca above Mar West Road to the north of a new Service Store building.

Asked Commissioner Edward K. Wissman and the planning staff to review interior remodeling plans for the fire-razed building of American Distillery Co. on Bridgeway between Coloma and Waterer streets, just outside Sausalito.

Approved "in principle" amendments to the Marin City Master Plan to allow maximum outdoor space adjacent to apartment houses, subject to topography, and to include decks of minimum length of seven feet, but delayed until Nov. 4 final approval of amendments, including reduction of building heights from six stories to three stories. Delay was asked so the housing authority may review plans.

Approved a tentative subdivision map for eight acres in Del Mesa Heights on Laurel Grove Kentfield, requested by August Hanken and James Wilson.

Continued until Nov. 4 consideration of a tentative map of Sea Cove, an 18-acre subdivision on the Tiburon Peninsula, east of Paradise Cove, as requested by developer Margarita Farms, Inc.

Approved a use permit for final development plans for "row house" apartments and tentatively approved last Gallinas Avenue in Marinwood.

Proposals for the 300-unit planned community by D. M. Christensen Construction Co. were reviewed and tentatively approved last month by the commission.

Several Wrecks —No One Injured

A chain reaction of accidents in the fog at 7:45 a.m. today wrecked 11 trucks and cars in the southbound lane of Highway 101 at Basalt Road north of Novato, and another accident later at Highways 101 and 37 blocked one northbound and one southbound lane.

Amazingly, no one was injured in either of the spectacular accidents.

California Highway Patrol Officer T. E. McGuire said a rock truck driven by Albert Barnes J. of Napa pulled onto the highway in front of a sedan driven by Ivyle Lewis Hollovoet, 27, of Petaluma, to start the 11-vehicle smashup.

Hollovoet said he swerved from the slow lane to miss the truck and his car skidded broadside into the bank at the right side of the road.

Barnes stopped his truck to see if Hollovoet was injured. Walter Fred Wolkenhauer, 25, of Sebastopol, stopped his car behind the rock truck. Wolkenhauer's car was hit from behind, and "suddenly, there were accidents everywhere."

Involved in the accident were: A concrete pipe truck driven by Lloyd Charles Hasch, 46, of Healdsburg; a sedan driven by Thomas Vern Stinger, 31, of Santa Rosa; a station wagon driven by John Ernest Ebbesen, 41, of 11 Clair Way, Belvedere; a pickup driven by James Ralph Jordan, 56, of Petaluma; a sedan driven by Frank S. Weber, 60, of Sebastopol; a sedan driven by Ricky Mellor, 16, of 50 Pillbury Lane, Novato; a pickup driven by Jack Irving Lane, 45, of Santa Rosa, and a sedan driven by Robert Keith Megetrann, 21, of Livermore.

While that series of accidents was being investigated by the highway patrol, another rock truck, belonging to the Groom Trucking Co. of Petaluma, and driven by Robert Butletti, 31, of Petaluma, collided with a car and house trailer driven by L. K. McNaught, 60, of Atascadero, in southbound lanes of Highway 101 at the intersection with Highway 37.

The rock truck carried the car and trailer broadside the highway for approximately 150 feet, blocking the inside southbound and the northbound lanes. The last election showed people of the San Jose District overwhelmingly wanted to unify with Novato.

"I realize you people want to unify with Novato, but you can't vote until January, 1965," said board chairman, Daniel Barber.

E. L. Blackmore of the county superintendent of schools office, secretary to the county committee on school district organization, said today it would be possible to place San Jose-Novato unification before the voters by "next March or April, probably April."

Individually the board members reaffirmed their desire for unification with Novato.

Some members of the audience wanted to know why board members did not attend the meeting of the augmented Marin County Committee on School District Organization at which the final Booz-Allen and Hamilton report on North Marin school unification was discussed. Each trustee said he had a personal reason for not attending.

"There was no need for my going to hear a rehash of the Booz-Allen and Hamilton report," said Barber. Trustee Alan Swabacker said that he had hoped the report would answer some questions, but it had not.

"The education of the children comes first. I'll be damned if I will pay more taxes and take a luke warm education said Swabacker.

"I don't want to lead you into a situation which is financially impossible," Barber said.

Barber told the crowd he hoped the board would have "full facts and figures" by July of next year.

ALMCRANTS

Continued from page 1 and added, "I am willing to put my record against that of anyone that the council may choose."

"The council concurs that there is no malfeasance, misfeasance or charges to motivate any action on my part; however, in order to accomplish what I feel is in the best interests of the city of Mill Valley I hereby submit my resignation."

Almcrants resigned Sept. 27 claiming, he had been under "pressures" from the council.

On Sept. 30 he withdrew his resignation following a plea from citizens at a stormy special council meeting. Mayor Sheeks, councilmen Secor and George D. Monardo announced two days later they intended to fire Almcrants Oct. 21 (last night).

"I do have a partner and a used car lot and I'm going to keep cheating them as long as I'm the biggest tax payer in Mill Valley. And I am the biggest tax payer."

Behr began by saying, "from one of the small taxpayers to the rest of the small taxpayers, greetings."

He said he had sat as councilman with Sheeks, Blackwell and Wornum and "I can assure everyone they were persons of good faith and good intentions . . . I can only speak from having worked for something a little over six years with Al as city manager."

"I believe that he is a far better city manager than the majority of the council think. I believe furthermore than many of the qualities he has which may have caused some of you to be here tonight may not be described as efficient. It is not very efficient to take a good deal of time to comfort one citizen who comes in angry over some problem which really doesn't matter, and yet the accumulation of this inefficiency over the years has added something to the character and climate of the town we love. And consequently I think the town is part of Al and I think Al is also part of this town."

Applause rang out. Behr continued saying he understands the desire of the council for a professional city manager but, "the city manager for this town may be efficient but he may be as sterile as a stork's stretcher."

Last speaker was Max Johnston, who said he did not believe that just because someone walks through "this swinging door" (to the dais) "he suddenly become God and knows everything." He said the population of Mill Valley is 11,000 and "it's close to 10,000 for Al."

William Feeney, the "sixth councilman," got up to speak but Sheeks called time, the council voted, and Sheeks said,

"The resignation is accepted as specified by the city manager."

It became evident that the city manager had not had the necessary exposure to modern executive practice, nor in his 12 years as manager had he actively sought out training in such techniques," continued Sheeks.

"It is simply our conviction that a professional city manager is called for and now is the time for a change."

Wornum spoke next, saying he had not changed his opinion.

"I think this is a pity for the city . . . I still think that Al has done a great deal of good in the past 12 years and we'll have a lot of trouble replacing him." The audience cheered.

Huber, who is a former councilman and was mayor until April 1962, arose to loud applause. He said the Committee of Five spent over 100 hours discussing the matter and ascertained "great public support is prominent in our city for retaining of the city manager."

"The 'charges' as you, Mr.

Mayor, have called them in the past against Mr. Almcrants do not reach any proportions of dishonesty, malfeasance, misfeasance or integrity . . . in spite of public demand . . . we as a council are determined to relieve him of his duties."

Huber then said "no matter what is done here tonight this will be a primary election . . . in the city election in April 1964." He added that the resolution has full concurrence of the committee to temporarily resolve the problem "before a final determination is made by the people . . . Our committee will continue in existence in order to support a dedicated man as city manager of Mill Valley."

Robert Warnick, speaking in favor of the motion, said, "I'm here to say the council has been doing a good job." He added that the council stays up to 1 and 2 a.m. with fewer than 100 people, "not the 9,000 people of the city."

Also backing the council was Dean Meyer, who said: "The issue involved is efficiency.

This city spend a million dollars a year. The time has come, perhaps, for somebody who can efficiently handle a $100,000 budget a year."

Dr. Albert White said he reiterated Meyer and Warnick's statements and would like to give a vote of confidence to the council. "Mr. Huber does not talk to the majority of people in Mill Valley," he said.

"He does! He does!" someone in the audience cried out and applause followed.

"Where's your group?" Manuel Gomez asked White and was gavelled down by Sheeks.

Gomez arose to speak again the motion and County Supervisor Peter H. Behr yielded the floor to him.

"I'm speaking against the city council because I'm one citizen who is here at every meeting," Gomez said, "more than the three last speakers. In fact, one of them I have never seen. I know how the city council works and knows their business. I'm one of the 100. I'm the guy who came over here to cheat them, to read the laws they have they do not understand themselves . . .

"The council concurs that there is no malfeasance, misfeasance or charges to motivate any action on my part; however, in order to accomplish what I feel is in the best interests of the city of Mill Valley I hereby submit my resignation."

Marin Charter Maybe, But Redistricting Is 'Must'

Faced with state pressure to redistrict Marin County, our supervisors reached an unusual area of agreement while discussing the problem on a recent radio panel.

They thought it would be just fine if supervisors were elected at-large with everyone having a vote in naming all five board members instead of just the one from their own district. Then no one could complain of population inequities now existing in Marin's supervisorial districts.

Supervisor Chairman William D. Fuselman, not present at the panel discussion, is also in favor of the idea. He would like a supervisor to continue to stand from a district as at present, but have him named by voters through the entire county.

To make such a change would mean shifting Marin from a general law to a charter form of government, a shift that would require a vote of the people. The people voted down such a shift in 1958 but may have altered their attitude.

The idea is certainly worth study. Things have changed and developed in Marin during the past five years. But we question that this idea is a full solution to redistricting.

Next Question. (Or Ask Somebody Else)

People ask a newspaper the dandiest things. Lady phoned in wanting the I-J's considered editorial view on whether Communists were amoral.

Answer was that it would take a full meeting of the editorial board to get an answer, and anyhow our main concern is Marin County news and views.

Thinking it over later, the individual who'd answered decided this question wasn't as daffy as it sounds. Anyhow it has an interesting answer for anybody

OOPS! SOMETHING SLIPPED!

Congressmen Have An Oddball Privilege Of 'Revision'

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (P) — Lots of people say things they wish they hadn't.

Members of Congress have a unique advantage in this situation — they can wave a magic wand and make the words disappear.

The magic wand is their privilege to change the remarks they make on the floor before they are made a part of the Congressional Record.

FOR EXAMPLE, the other day Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa), was complaining about trips some members like to take at public expense. Gross never goes on these himself.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) upholding the worth of travel, demanded of Gross: "If you don't want to go, why don't you just shut up?"

But the next morning when the Congressional Record came out, Cooley had softened his words.

As revised for the record, they read: "It is difficult for me to understand why you continue to complain."

OFFHAND, it would seem that Congress would want its record to be accurate, to show exactly what took place and what was said.

But any feeling along those lines is outweighed by a desire to look as good as possible. And in Congress, as elsewhere, hindsight is 20-20 vision.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Marin Helps Its Retarded Children

Editor, Independent-Journal:

If Patricia R. Todd were genuinely interested, she would not have had to ask her fearful and/or ignorant questions about Marin County's Special Education program. Instead, she would thank God that she lives in a county, in a state, whose program for handicapped children (both physically and mentally handicapped) is superior to any in the nation.

Upon investigation, she would discover that all of these children ARE tested physically, neurologically and psychologically before being placed in the Special Classes and that the testing is done by top men and women in their fields.

After the child enters these classes, he is checked frequently and thoroughly re-evaluations are done periodically.

Undoubtedly she is unaware that the mentally retarded children are classified into two groups: the mildly retarded (or educable) and the severely retarded (or trainable) . . . and that there are separate classes for each group. All of them are taught by dedicated, highly intelligent, sympathetic teachers.

The program is administered by men and women with the same laudable qualifications, despite constant harassment by hysterical, misinformed people whose "pride and trust in our schools is severely shaken"!!!

As the I-J so succinctly put it, let Mrs. Todd "get the facts." If she assembles and assimilates them fairly and intelligently, she may realize that mental retardation, though not frightening, shameful or threatening, is a monumental problem. It is being handled by the County Superintendent of Schools

The late Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), who fought the practice, once described one aspect of it thus:

"After a major debate in the Senate over an issue which stirs profound emotions I have seen many senators virtually rewriting the speeches and retorts just delivered on the floor of the Senate.

"SOME WILL totally expunge comments made in the heat of debate that may seem indiscreet or unwise in the cold, gray light of the next dawn and in the inflexible type of the Congressional Record."

On the other hand there is the argument, in favor of allowing revisions, that was advanced years ago by Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass.), now the speaker of the House:

"Sometimes in running debate, extemporaneous debate in the House and heated argument, I say things sharply that upon reflection I would not have said, and did not mean."

IF HE DIDN'T mean them, and they still slipped out, it is understandable why he would want to change them. But again, this is a privilege not accorded to most citizens in this democracy.

The No. 1 authority on Congress' reluctance to tighten the rules on what is permitted in the Congressional Record is Rep. Paul C. Jones (D-Mo.).

For years, Jones has been promoting a resolution to keep extraneous material out of the record, to have it reflect only what happened.

But Jones can't get the House Administration Committee, which reigns in this field, to even give him a hearing. And he's on the committee.

with competence, dignity and empathy in the highest degree.

Incidentally, MARC (Marin Aid to Retarded Children) could put her "worrying energy" to some positive use. Why doesn't she join?

Insolence About Digit Dialing

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Was delighted with your editorial "Digit Dialing Starts Much Ire, Causing Heat Not Light." Gives us "antics" quite a boost.

Primarily, I'm disgusted with PT&T because they have absolutely ignored the wishes of the majority. Seems they made a big decision to produce unpopular changes and now said it impossible to back down unless forced to.

Hurray for P.U.C.!

Such insolence, to insist that they're right in changing to all digits, when many people and computers have proven this is not true, certainly not for many years, if ever.

H.R.H. J.F.K. Has Done It Again

Editor, Independent-Journal:

H.R.H. J.F.K., I, has done it again. How long can the American people "stomach" the type of dictatorship this egotist is imposing upon us?

Just few days ago, we were told that he had picked the man HE wants to represent the people of California in the U. S. Senate should the ailing Senator Engle not be able to complete his term or run for reelection. As a Californian, I resent anyone, be he from Massachusetts, New York, Alabama, Hawaii, or any other state, dictating who is to be the other senator from California.

Then there was his decision and announcement of the Wheat Deal whereby we are to feed those who wish to bury us; feed them to build up their physical strength and release their man-power from farms for the ammunition factories of the Soviet Union.

Now, Harvard's Raider of Homerule is bypassing the Senate in another one of his Soviet-American Mutual Aid Society sell-outs by setting up an agreement through the U. N. to ban bombs in space.

What will be next? How many deals has this man in the White House made with the atheistic leaders of the U.S.S.R., a nation with leaders notorious for making treaties and agreements to fit in their program for world domination, and breaking them more easily than tearing a scrap of paper?

With all of this effort on the United States' K's behalf to make Russia "love us to death," there are still Russian troops in Cuba, the Berlin Wall, and communists stoning an American governor in Argentina.

What has become of our sacred national honor?

Congress Drafts Civil Rights Bill Which It Can't Pass

WASHINGTON — The urgently needed civil rights bill is at this stage in grave peril.

The danger isn't that a worthy and worthwhile civil rights bill cannot be passed. There is a clear majority in both House and Senate for greatly strengthened legislation.

The danger is that such a bill cannot be drafted by the House Judiciary Committee and brought to the floor in a form which will win the indispensable bi-partisan backing it must have.

WHAT HAS happened is that under the earnest and zealous leadership of Chairman Emanuel Celler of Brooklyn, the House Committee has drafted a do-everything-at-once bill which goes far beyond President Kennedy's well-considered proposals.

If the Celler draft ever reached the floor of the House in its present form, it would either be rejected or torn to pieces in debate and amendment.

The nation cannot afford and, I am convinced, will not lightly accept a Congressional stalemate on this transcendent matter. Congress cannot afford to confess to the country that it is unable to deal responsibly with the most explosive domestic problem the United States has faced in a century.

HOW HAS Congress got itself into this box—the box of drafting a civil rights bill it can't pass?

The explanation, I believe, is that until very recently, at least, both Democrats and Republicans figured they could use the civil rights issue for political gains.

There is evidence that Administration Democrats, while talking about the need for bipartisan support, were eager to tag the Republicans with any compromise which might be necessary. There were Republicans who wanted to saddle the liberal Democrats with trying to go too far too fast and thereby risk throwing everything away.

INTO THIS dilemma Att. Gen. Robert Kennedy has usefully intervened. He has made it clear that is his judgment the House Judiciary Committee draft bill is too extreme and has provisions—like injecting the Federal government into state and local elections—which are probably un-Constitutional.

Robert Kennedy, who is not soft on civil rights, is appealing for a bill more moderate than the one proposed by the Celler committee. And he is on solid ground, also, when he stresses that no worthwhile civil rights legislation can be passed unless Congress "puts partisan considerations aside and both political parties work together."

Let's put bluntly what will have to happen if an enactable civil rights bill is to be moved off dead center.

BEAR IN MIND that no civil rights bill whatsoever can be passed in the House without the support of at least 40 moderate Republicans.

Bear in mind that unless a constructive compromise on the range of the bill can be reached within the committee, the bill will be wrecked on the floor.

This means that the range of the civil rights bill must be negotiated between the liberal Democrats and the moderate Republicans (both groups being civil rights supporters) before the bill goes to the floor.

This issue is too big and too combustible to be dealt with on a partisan basis.

THE WORLD TODAY

Impatient Taxpayer Would Enjoy That Pay Boost

By JOHN C. OWEN

that leads into the second explanation:

PRACTICALITY — Until the House Ways and Means Committee finishes its public and executive hearings, there literally isn't a tax bill in existence.

The House hearings are weary of delay, may be excused for asking:

Why does the Senate Finance Committee have to go over ground already covered by the House Ways and Means Committee in nine months of work on the bill?

WHY COULDN'T the Senate and House committees meet jointly and whip the whole thing together at the same time? Or why couldn't the Senate committee go to its separate work in advance of House passage of a tax bill.

The answer to these questions is a combination of tradition, practicality and a bit of vanity on the part of Congress members.

Taking these things in order:

TRADITION — Legislation dealing with taxes has to originate in the House — the Constitution requires it—and senators traditionally have hung back until the House finished its work.

This has been true not only of the present Senate Finance Committee under Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), but also of committees in previous Congresses, under Republican as well as Democratic chairmen.

The Constitution does not say the Senate must wait until the House is finished, but Vanity and Prestige — The House Ways and Means Committee is a powerful one, and proud of it. Its members would hardly be eager to hold joint sessions with senators, as senators have something of a reputation for stealing the show when they get a chance.

There's still another important personal element in the present situation:

Byrd doesn't want to cut in taxes without assurance of a cut in spending and he's not one to be stampeded.

All Is Up To Date In Novato, Except The Council Minutes

IT SEEMS Novato Unified School District officials and the mayor of Novato heed Lady Macbeth's advice: "If it were done when 'tis done, then 'twere well it were done quickly."

Before the public was aware anything was amiss, the F-86 plane has been taken from its resting place at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street.

We don't argue that the plane did not need repairs, probably expensive, but somehow perhaps a way could have been found to preserve it in usable form. The Air Force sent out a crew to repair the plane in the past. Perhaps, just perhaps, it could have been repaired this time and kept to furnish further fun for the children.

ONLY the Saturday before we watched as children eagerly scrambled over the plane. It was one of the best child attractions in the city.

We thought how we would have enjoyed something like that when we were young. (Yes, the airplane had been invented.)

And the children weren't the only ones that enjoyed the plane. The Novato police tell of one night when they thought they had caught a vandal. They observed a car stop on Grant Avenue about 11 p.m. and a lone man get out. He crawled over the fence and went up to the plane.

When the police got there, he was sitting in the cockpit, not harming anything.

legal steps necessary to obtain title to the cemetery itself. The council also asked the parks and recreation commission to investigate the possibility of additional city land to the south and north to make a city park.

At the same council meeting, Veterans of Foreign Wars Donald V. Westlund Post No. 7818 offered its canon to the city for the pioneer cemetery.

Writing for the post, Al Lerch, chairman of the memorial building committee, summarized the general public's feeling toward the vandals.

He wrote, "Even though the cannon is old, we are aware that if anyone could make it shoot, vandals would find a way and maybe shoot it at the town."

He reassured the council by stating that the post has guarded against this by filling the barrel with a steel plug and removing the firing mechanism.

MEMBERS OF the city council did a double look at the dates on minutes of the prior meetings which they were asked to approve last Tuesday. These were dated

April 19, Aug. 20, and Aug. 22.

Usually they are asked to approve only the minutes of the previous meeting, so they asked about these old ones.

City Administrator J. Julian Baget told them that to be legal, the minutes must be approved. The council had missed approving the minutes of an executive session in April, an insurance bid in August and a regular meeting in August.

Life Of A Bachelor Shames Our Modern Civilization

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the ugly blots on the otherwise shining fabric of our civilization is the shameful way we treat our bachelors.

Cruelty to bachelors is seldom discussed in polite society, but occasionally you will find someone brave enough to speak out against it.

April 19, Aug. 20, and Aug. 22.

Usually they are asked to approve only the minutes of the previous meeting, so they asked about these old ones.

City Administrator J. Julian Baget told them that to be legal, the minutes must be approved. The council had missed approving the minutes of an executive session in April, an insurance bid in August and a regular meeting in August.

wedded bliss for so long I couldn't remember how horrible it was to be a bachelor.

So I approached a bachelor friend of mine, Sam Freeloader, and asked whether he felt persecuted.

"It's all true," Freeloader moaned, his chin trembling and water coming into his eyes. "Everybody picks on us bachelors."

"There, there, old fellow," I said, patting his head. "Compose yourself. Do you feel like talking about it?"

"FREELOADER BIT his lip "Basically," he said. "We bachelors are homebodies. If we had our way we would go to bed every evening at eight o'clock. But people conspire to keep us out all night."

"They invite us to dinners, parties, theaters, night clubs, concerts, dances—anything to disturb our rest. And that is not all."

"Man is by nature monogamous. But a bachelor is virtually forced to take out different girls. A blonde one night, a redhead the next. It's terrible."

Council Raps State Over Design Problem

The Corte Madera Town Council last night did not like being told by a state architect that it had no control over building of the new Department of Motor Vehicles office.

Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis was instructed to determine the legal aspects of the question and report to the council on Nov. 4. Both Davis and Town Mgr. A. H. Brandow said state buildings were covered by the town's ordinance which requires building permits for new construction.

State Architect Carl C. McElvey wrote, "The state through its agencies is not required to file applications for approval of construction." He contended this opinion came from "competent legal advice."

"I don't know where they got their competent legal advice," said Davis.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Approved specifications and call for bids on Nov. 4 at 3 p.m. for construction of a retaining wall, curb and gutter on the north side of Paradise Drive west of Harbor Drive.

2. Approved an agreement which provides for the public works department superintendent to be on call for emergencies on weekends, instead of a rotating call system for all employees.

3. Heard that Brandow hired Clarence E. Lyons Jr., an engineer in the San Bruno public works department, yesterday as assistant town engineer to replace Richard J. McCready, resigned.

Car Used For Target Practice, Then Looted

A small foreign sedan, which broke down on a road near Inverness, was used for target practice and looted during the weekend, sheriff's officers reported yesterday.

Erick Vatvedt of Oakland, owner of the car, said he left the vehicle locked Thursday on Pierce Point Road six miles west of Inverness. He returned to find the rear and one side window blasted out, the left rear tire shot up, and the lock on the car trunk shot.

Missing were a battery, a spare tire and wheel, a tool kit, a brief case, a wallet and a pair of trousers.

In another case, Donald R. Gotthold, Berkeley, reported his suit and his wife's suit and $9 from his wife's purse were taken from his car at McClure's Beach. He set the loss at $150.

Moving Day

LONDON (UPI)—It was moving day at Madame Tussaud's yesterday. The famous wax museum, which displays effigies of the British cabinet among its exhibits moved new prime minister Lord Home to the center of the stage and carted former leader of the House of Commons Iain MacLeod to the storeroom.

Corte Madera Firemen's Controversial Banner Flies

That controversial banner across Tamalpais Avenue in Corte Madera is up again.

But this year the banner advertising the Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department's annual dance on Nov. 9 at the town recreation center will remain strung across the street.

The town council last night voted 2-1 to let the banner remain, despite the fact that last March the council ruled no banner would be allowed to fly in the breeze. Firemen had put the banner up without consulting anybody.

To Councilman Charles F. Pendleton, the lone dissenter in the vote, this was "vastly irritating. The authority of the council and the law was flouted."

State Traffic Death Toll Up

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Another climb in traffic deaths was noted by Bradford M. Crittenden, highway patrol commissioner, in his report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

As of Sept. 30, he said deaths numbered 3,101, compared to 2,970, for the first nine months of 1962, an increase of 4.4 per cent.

For the month of September, California traffic deaths totaled 364, an increase of 29 over the same month of last year.

Pendleton was outnumbered by Mayor W. Colhurst and Councilman Albert Kogler who felt, despite the fact the banner was up already, that it should remain flying because the fire department "is an arm of the town government."

Councilmen Norman R. Barnett and Robert I. LaDow were absent from last night's meeting.

Stabbings 'Over' At San Quentin

Stabbings at San Quentin Prison which left one dead and two others wounded Saturday were apparently a "localized problem" unlikely to lead to more trouble, prison officials said today.

Associate Warden Walter A. Achuff said there have been no hint of further incidents since the fatal scuffle among spectators at a prison football game.

Encarnacion Ramiriz, 30, was stabbed to death, and Richard Manriques, 25, and James Hernandez, 28, were wounded.

Ramiriz and Manriques were sent to the prison for narcotics possession, and Hernandez on conviction for lewd conduct.

Investigation of the stabbings continued today by the Marin County district attorney's office.

Planner Kagi Resigning Job With County

Senior planner Edmond C. Kagi, who has been on the Marin County planning staff for four years, will resign next month to join private San Francisco firm as site planner.

"Nov. 4 will be my last day," said Kagi yesterday. He will join the firm of Sasaki-Walker-Lackey and Associates, landscape architects and site planners.

Kagi lives with his wife and two children in Mill Valley.

Planning director B. D. Dobbs said no successor to Kagi has been selected. Two vacancies exist on the staff.

Dobbs announced Kagi's impending resignation at yesterday's meeting of the county planning commission.

Scouts Will Collect Papers In Mill Valley

Boy Scouts will collect news papers from sidewalks in front of residents' homes in Mill Valley between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday, Clay Underhill, drive chairman, said today.

If not pickup by 2 p.m., Underhill said, persons may telephone the fire department and Scouts stationed there will come and get the papers.

Mum Society Cancels Show

The Chrysanthemum Society of Marin has canceled its annual show in San Rafael to participate in the 20th annual show of the National Chrysanthemum Society at the Hall of Flowers, Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, opening Friday at 10 a.m.

Thirty members of the Marin group will be working at the show and 20 will enter exhibits.

For the past 14 years the society has been presenting its annual show the last week in October in San Rafael. The tradition will resume next year with the 15th annual show at the Crocker-Anglo National Bank in San Rafael.

The national show will run through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

We could save a lot of money building a car

Babysitter Is Charged In Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 22-year-old babysitter accused of drowning an eight-month-old girl in the rest room of a Tenderloin District tavern was formally charged with murder yesterday.

The accused woman is Mrs. Glenda M. Yarber Stetson, a former resident of Plymouth, Mass. Police said she escaped last month from an Arkansas State Mental Hospital where she had been committed as a schizophrenic.

Mrs. Stetson was arrested Friday afternoon.

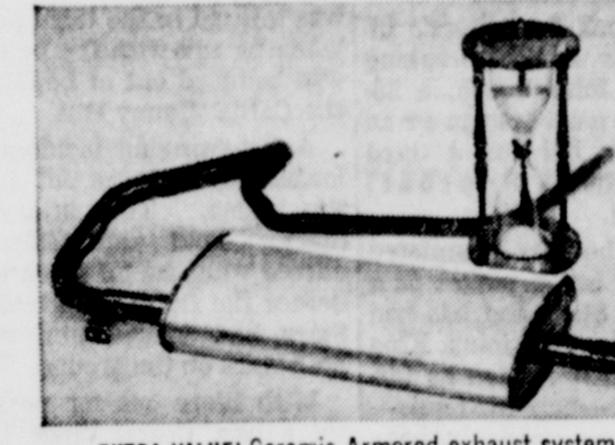

The child was Bernadette Stinson, daughter of Mrs. June Stinson, with whom Mrs. Stetson was sharing an apartment in San Francisco.

-but it wouldn't be a Rambler

WE COULD save a lot of money by leaving out extra values that benefit owners.

We could simply spray on rust-proofing as many others do.

But then, Rambler owners might have rust problems as serious as those of other car owners. That's why, after spraying on the rust-proofing paint-bond solution, we dip each Rambler body right up to the roof in a thick chromate primer-paint bath that gets into places spraying can't reach.

We could eliminate rust fighting galvanized steel in vital body parts.

We could save still more by using the flat, formed-wire seat springs most other cars use. But for your comfort, 1964 Ramblers have deep-coil springs in all seat cushions.

We could economize with flat glass in side windows. Instead, we use curved-glass as featured in luxury cars. They not only look smarter; they permit door openings you don't have to duck through.

We could charge extra for Roof-Top Travel Racks on all wagons. Others do, but roof racks are standard on 5 of Rambler's 6 wagons.

For your safety we put Double-Safety Brakes on all Ramblers. Two separate systems, they stop when ordinary brakes would fail. An almost endless list of such extra values are built into Ramblers. Among these: exclusive Ceramic-Armored muffler, exhaust and tail pipes for long life; exclusive Cushioned Acoustical Ceiling of molded fiber glass in Classic, Ambassador cuts road noise 30%; handsome stainless-steel covers protect rocker panels on 21 Rambler models.

Such extra values have switched over 2 million owners to Rambler. Rambler is more than a different size of car—it's a better kind . . .

That's how Rambler came into being in the first place . . . how it caused such a trend that already one-third of all cars sold in this country are compacts . . . with Rambler the top-selling make of them all.

We think Rambler's leadership is proof of an obviously better value. We'd like you to see for yourself. Let your dealer show you the three kinds of cars below—each different from the other, all beautifully new for '64, all filled with Rambler's extra values.

Compare how much more you get in a Rambler, then consider this:

49ers Got Every Break In Game; Also, Bears Were Overconfident

Phineas Finnegan, our old pen pal, writes a cautioning letter that contains a warning to the 49ers.

"They shouldn't get smug about their one-game winning streak," says Finnegan. "They shouldn't take lightly their next opponent. They should be warned that the Rams also have a one-game streak going and now are an identical 1-5 with the 49ers."

Over-confidence can be deadly. Harland Sware, the new Ram coach, undoubtedly will caution his men on that point. Jack Christiansen, the new 49er coach, should do the same with his men.

"Look what over-confidence did to the Bears and their pretty 5-0 record. Yes, it was overconfidence that beat the Bears, not the 49ers."

"I'll allow that the 49ers did play their best game of the season against the Bears. But that isn't saying much for a team that took an 0-5 mark into the game. Anything had to be an improvement on that record, anything, that is, except another defeat."

FINNEGAN EVEN allowed that Lamar McHan deserved a pat on the back for a smart quarterbacking job against the Bears. Then, he added his inevitable "but" to that admission.

"But," he added, "any effort by McHan had to be an improvement over past 49er quarterbacking jobs this season."

Similarly, Finnegan acknowledged there was an improvement in 49er offensive line blocking against the Bears. Naturally, the acknowledge-

Cal, Stanford Eye Big Upsets Saturday

California and Stanford aim for upsets on Saturday as the Trojans of Southern California invade Berkeley to meet the Bears in a Big Six battle and Notre Dame plays at Stanford.

Coach Marv Levy doesn't put a California victory over the ranking Trojans beyond possibility and John Ralston of Stanford declared his Indians have shown continual improvement since their second game of the season. Levy, speaking to the Northern California Football Writers yesterday, described his Bears as fighters with no physical fear of the favored Trojans.

"When you're a fighter you're maybe going to win some games you shouldn't win," he theorized.

Quarterback Craig Morton and halfback Tom Blanchfield of California were named backs-of-the-week off their performance in the Bears' 34-13 triumph over San Jose State. Morton threw five touchdown passes but San Jose Coach Bob Titchenal said Blanchfield's long runs in key situations were what decided the game.

Southern California publicist Jerry Wilcox said the Trojans aim to return to the Rose Bowl as a real competitor and team leader, and added: "I haven't seen anybody better under a rush than Morton."

Ralston said Stanford showed improvement although falling to Washington 18-11 in their Big Six battle.

"We were disappointed in the outcome yet felt it was a fine team effort and we finally put out a fourth quarter effort.

We had improved performances from our sophomore club of last year.

He gave his greatest praise to Morton, whom he described as a real competitor and team leader, and added: "I haven't seen anybody better under a rush than Morton."

Ralston said Stanford showed improvement although falling to Washington 18-11 in their Big Six battle.

"We were disappointed in the outcome yet felt it was a fine team effort and we finally put out a fourth quarter effort.

Ken Berry was promoted to starting quarterback over Randy Carter. In another change, Bill Holland moved up to starting right end.

"We ran 83 plays against California, the most since I've been at San Jose," Titchenal said. "But we didn't take advantage of scoring opportunities."

California, on the other hand, had just 44 plays but five went for touchdowns on Morton passes.

How Long Can 49ers Continue?

Enthusiasm breeds success. And, success gives birth to more enthusiasm. When you have a losing football team, this can be the remedy.

Question: How long does it continue?

This could be what Coach Jack Christiansen is asking himself after Sunday's 20-14 win for the San Francisco 49ers over the Chicago Bears.

After a dozen failures, the 49ers finally made good.

On the surface, it looked like a team that had finally hit pay dirt after digging in a sand box for weeks. Beneath the surface, however, it involved a team of players who weren't sure where to dig.

They went into the Bears game with new enthusiasm. They had the hang of Christiansen's simplified offensive, and had nothing to lose. So they won.

Christiansen said his squad made a "couple" of offensive mistakes against the Bears. He didn't elaborate.

NO INJURIES

Yesterday, Christiansen said he survived the win without any serious injuries; so he should have the same team available Sunday when the 49ers meet the Los Angeles Rams.

Christiansen inherited this team from the retiring Red Hickey after Hickey decided he had done his best to make an acceptable National Football League squad of the 49ers—and failed.

Realizing he had a weak offensive eleven, Christiansen took them back to the fundamental pro football routine, and they went through the paces.

The result was the Chicago defeat.

Sunday will tell whether—in this case—success breeds enthusiasm.

Christiansen said his 49ers looked better in game movies than they looked on the field Sunday.

TURNING POINT He suggested that the turning point came on the 49ers first drive of the day when they went for the first down and the eventual touchdown rather than settle for a field goal.

"With that opening drive they got confidence in themselves, the quarterback, the offense, and they took it from there."

He praised about every player on the team, but had especially kind words for veteran fullback J. D. Smith, benched for the first time in five seasons. Dennis Gerughty with a triple and Jerry Howarth with a double.

S. A. VICTORY

San Anselmo's Merchants came up with a good-hit, good-pitch game to drub the Sarto Athletic Club 7-1 Sunday for their second victory in the San Francisco AAA Winter League in S.F.

Russ Honeyman twirled a four-hitter while striking out eight and walking only two and was backed by a solid 12-hit attack. Leading San Anselmo stickers were Don Novac and John Bennett with three hits apiece while Bill McGee and Vince Pallevacini each cracked out two safeties.

He said he felt the 49ers could beat the Rams.

"It just took one win to get everything going right. I feel now that the players have the initiative and, if they keep it up, they can beat anybody."

Christiansen was asked "was the win over the Bears your greatest football thrill?"

"Well, I guess I'd have to say it's my greatest since becoming 49er head coach," he deadpanned.

Packers Ace Out Six Weeks; Unsung Sub Put On The Spot

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Quarterback Bart Starr's injury thrusts a back-breaking burden on John Roach, a 30-year-old benchwarmer in Green Bay's bid for a third straight National Football League title.

Roach, who has completed only two of seven passes as a stand-in for Starr and has had three intercepted, joins King Hill and Lamar McHan as former Chicago—now St. Louis—Cardinals who suddenly have become No. 1 quarterbacks.

Hill moved into the front row at Philadelphia after Sonny Jurgensen suffered a right shoulder injury in Sunday's game with Cleveland. McHan, cut loose by the Baltimore Colts, finally decided to join the San Francisco 49ers and passed them to their first victory of the season Sunday, an upset over the Chicago Bears. He replaced the injured John Brodie.

With Starr out for possibly six weeks, Coach Vince Lombardi found himself with only Roach, a 6-foot-4 former Southern Methodist ace, as his lone quarterback. Roach had been drafted No. 3 by the old Cardinals in 1956. He spent the next two years in the service but saw plenty of service in both 1959 and 1960. Traded to Green Bay in 1961, he threw only 16 passes in two years before this season.

Although Starr has been erratic this year and has been intercepted 10 times, he has thrown eight touchdown passes and completed 50.7 per cent of his tosses. It was Starr, generally conceded to be an underrated quarterback, who led the Packers to the league championship in 1961 and 1962, beating the New York Giants in the playoffs.

Lombardi prefers to concentrate on one quarterback, giving the signal-caller control of the offense. In such a situation, the No. 2 man, Roach, had little chance to play.

Starr's injury probably will assure a tight race down to the wire in the Western Conference of the NFL, where the Packers and Chicago Bears are tied for the lead with 5-1 records. After losing the opener to the Bears, Green Bay came back and won five in a row.

"I'm very happy that Salty was available to join us when an opening occurred," Bill Rigney said. "He's a fine baseball man and very valuable addition to our coaching staff and organization."

Southern California now leads in total defense (227 yards per game) and is far ahead in pass defense (48).

California, with quarterback Craig Morton again leading the way, has passed for 165 yards per contest, while Washington is number one in rushing (226) and total offense (314).

Washington State has the loop's best rushing defense, having allowed but 122 yards per contest.

LANDSLIDE WINNER

Olson Ready For World Title Bout

By SCOTT BAILLIE

Maybe he's a little bald and a little slower than when king of the middleweights 10 years ago, but Carl (Bobo) Olson still can wreck you with those body punches.

Young Jose Menno of Argentina got the message right in mid-section last night as Olson worked him over for a unanimous 10-round decision at San Francisco's Kezar Pavilion before a crowd of 2,818.

Olson, who said today that he had earned a shot at Willie Pastrano's world light-heavyweight title, weighed 176 pounds to 175 for Menno.

Bobo's $3,580 share of the $13,568 gate was tied up after the bout by tax agents.

"I'm ready to fight Pastrano in this city now for the light-heavyweight championship," Olson said afterwards in the dressing room. "The fight should bring in a gate of $100,000."

Olson had Menno's nose bleeding from the second round and constantly distressed him with left hooks to the body.

In the eighth a right-left-right combination to the head made the South American sit down on the middle strand of the ropes. But he struggled back and kept on trying to get in a good punch.

A LANDSLIDE

It was a landslide for Olson, who was fighting his 100th professional bout. Referee Frankie Carter scored the fight 7-2 in Bobo's favor, while Judge Tony Bosnich saw it 6-1 and Judge Bob Mitchell 7-0.

Olson went to work on Menno's body in the second round, scoring with busy shots while using his elbows to block the Argentine's counter punches.

Menno, who had sought to box from long range, was a picture of bewilderment in the fifth round when Olson worked him over inside, then jarred him with a right chop to the head. Another left hook to the body scored more points for Bobo in the seventh and set the Argentine for his near knockdown during the eighth.

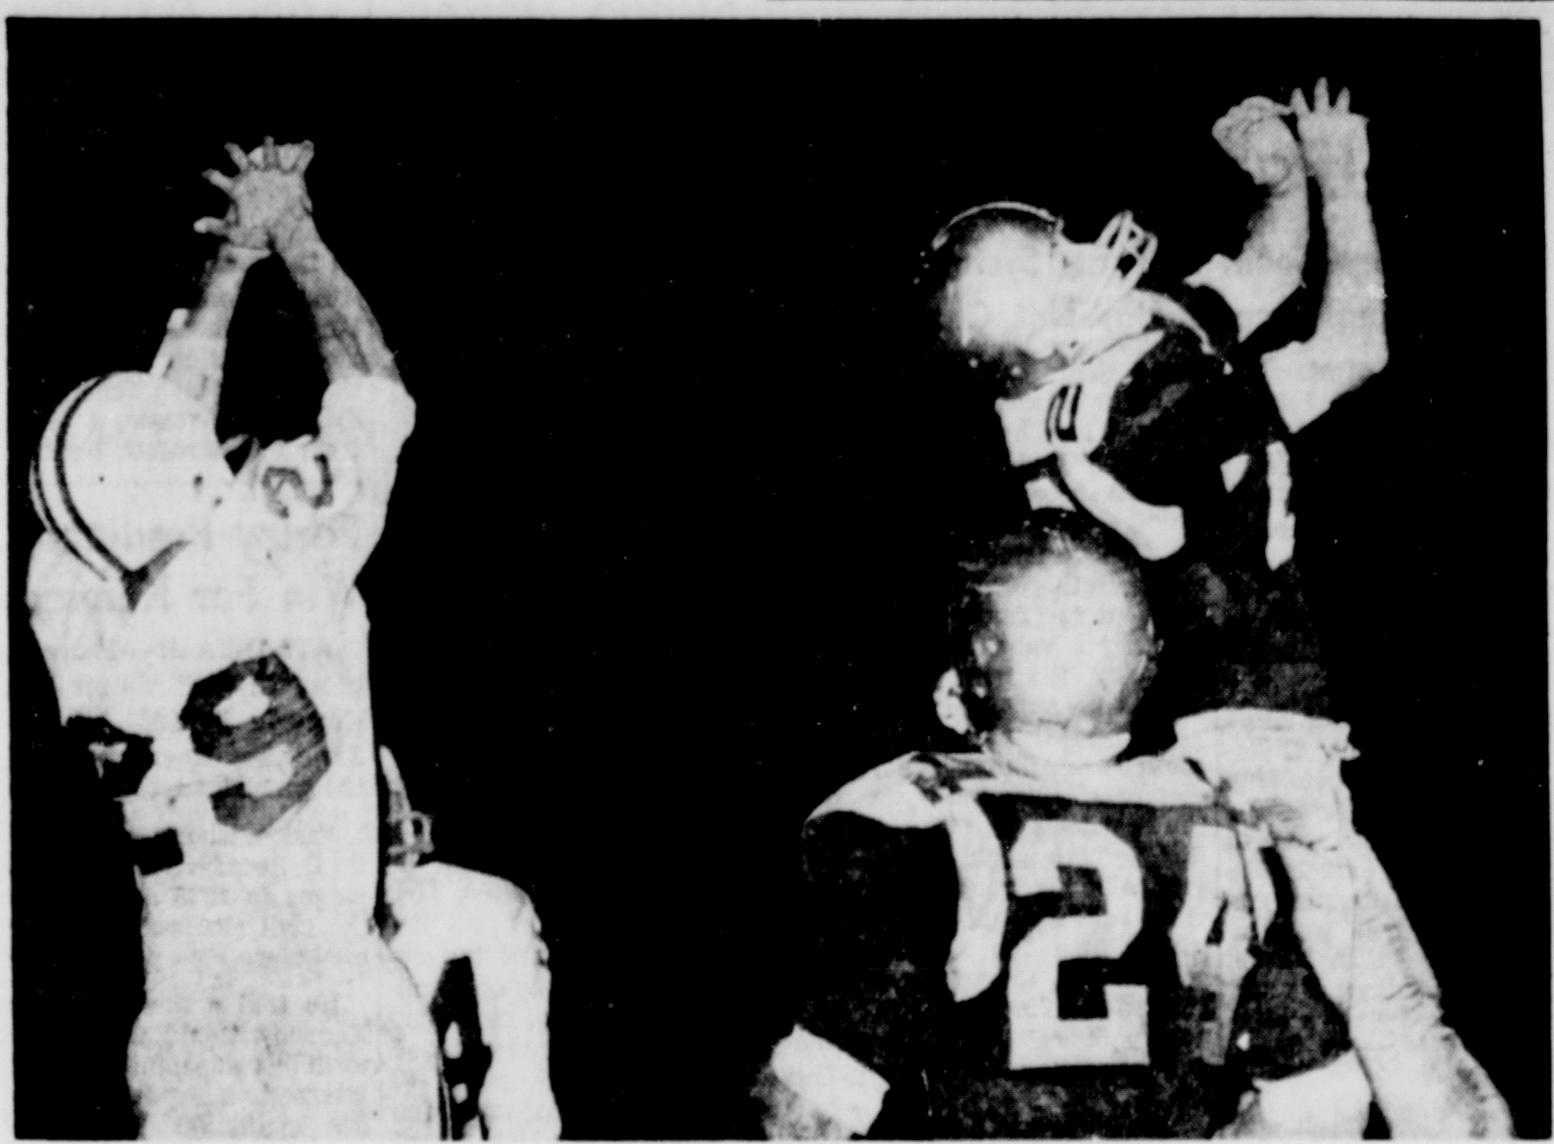

Lombardi prefers to concentrate on one quarterback, giving the signal-caller control of the offense. In such a situation, the No. 2 man, Roach, had little chance to play.

Starr's injury probably will assure a tight race down to the wire in the Western Conference of the NFL, where the Packers and Chicago Bears are tied for the lead with 5-1 records. After losing the opener to the Bears, Green Bay came back and won five in a row.

Waterfowl Season Opening Tomorrow

The 1963 waterfowl season opens statewide tomorrow and just about everybody agrees that shooting should be better than last year.

Initial success, as usual, will depend on the weather. If it's rainy or windy, shooting will be good. If not, the birds will sit tight.

But any way you look at it, the experts say, the over-all season just has to be better than 1962—primarily because more birds are here and the duck weather can't possibly be that bad two years in a row.

Frank Zozlik, the State Department of Fish and Game waterfowl chief, says "This is the first year since the drought which started in 1959 that conditions on the breeding grounds have improved. From nearly all of the areas that supply the Pacific Flyway, we're getting larger populations of birds."

The season will last through Jan. 5. On opening day, shooting starts at 1 p.m. After that it's one half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The bag and possession limits for both ducks and geese are six.

Actually, they've been shooting birds in the northeastern part of the state and along the Colorado River since Oct. 8.

Zozlik says that hunting has been so good in the northeast that shotguns killed as many ducks at Honey Lake during the first four days this fall as they did during the entire season last year.

The top spots for the rest of the state are expected to be around Los Banos and at Grizzly Island in the San Joaquin, Sacramento Delta.

Four of the best spots, however, won't open until Nov. 9 because of rice harvesting. They are the Grey Lodge water management area, the Sutter and Colusa refuges and the Delavan national wildlife refuge east of Maxwell.

As usual, shooting the first few days should be better, toward the north. As the season progresses, the southern areas should pick up.

The state department of fish and game says waterfowl populations continue to increase, with populations running ahead of last year.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Local Anglers' Sad Plight; Many Called, Few Chosen Over Weekend

take over

"Many are called, but few are chosen." Many cruisers, skiffs and fishermen answered the call of good weather, good bait, and—good gosh!, what a disappointing weekend of fishing answered. The ocean refused to yield the expected salmon, the S.F. Bay Area fishing slowed down to a walk, and the hoped-for action in the upper San Pablo Bay failed to materialize.

Checking on the salmon

the weekend I learned that not even a one fish average prevailed among the salmon fleet.

About the best report was of the Lucky Day out of Berkeley.

Lee Anderson's reported seven salmon on Saturday at Duxbury.

The Sea Horse brought in only five salmon. But, as compensation, each boat registered a 30-pounder.

Also reported from Lee Andersson's was a stingy bass

score. On Saturday, the Keesa accounted for nine stripers to 12 pounds, the Millie Linn reported one 25 pound bass. On Sunday, the R.S.P. docked with

15 bass taken in Racoon Strait and weighing to 12 pounds.

Not bad, but so far, far below

what the R.S.P. usually reports.

UP STREAM in the San

Pablo Bay, it seems that the flurry of the fore part of the week sort of petered out. Joe

Nerviani of Joe's Launching at

Santa Venetia reported Lou

Listman of Novato coming in

Saturday with a 14-pound

stripers and a 14-pound salmon, which was the best for the day.

About 12 boats out and only 11

fish unloaded. On Sunday, Jack

Robinson of Santa Venetia coaxed a 16-pound stripers to take his bullhead off Buoy 4

and that was the extent of Joe's report.

Incidentally, it appears that more fish and bigger fish were taken on Saturday and Sunday

by those using hullheads for bait. Frank Joseph of Joseph's

Resort at Rodeo verified that.

He told me a few fish had been taken here and there, but nothing like we had all hoped for. And that applies particularly to the lads and lassies who participated in the Rodeo

Bass Derby.

Nicklaus won five of 24

since the season opened in that sector on Oct. 8, are in extremely high spirits. No wonder — on the first four shooting days more ducks were downed than were killed during all of 1962.

Peg Coady of the HAFB Officers Wives League was runner-up with a 534 series and

TREASURER FUSS POPS UP AGAIN

Mill Valley Council Learns System Of Keeping Records Has Not Changed

The old chestnut of who does what in Mill Valley's finance department bobbed up last night in a discussion of the 1963 audit by the city council.

Following discussion and a brief report by City Auditor Frederic D. Kerr, the council held the audit approval in abeyance to get a further report from Kerr Dec. 2.

Councilman George D. Monardo said it was his understanding that all remaining transactions of City Treasurer William G. Rutherford were to be turned over to Finance Director Thomas T. Behnke following a council meeting Dec. 23, 1962. At that time Behnke was appointed deputy city treasurer and given a raise in pay for the extra duties, Monardo said.

Behnke told council it was his understanding he was to be of assistance to Rutherford and "nowhere does it state I was to change his records." He said Rutherford's assessment district records are "not the world's best records but they adequately show the transactions of the treasurer's department."

He added that Rutherford

1. Asked the parks and recreation commission to nominate two persons to a committee to select a park superintendent to succeed Joseph F. Penders, who was demoted Sept. 17.

2. Sitting as the Mill Valley retirement board, approved payment of $82 per month as benefit to Karl Constantine Kehreider, librarian, who is retiring this month at the age of 70, and agreed to refund $191 from retirement funds to park employee Walter Karp, who has left the city's employ.

3. Announced a meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at Park School to discuss the fund-raising drive for money for the community and youth center.

4. Adopted the ordinance making retirement for all city employees compulsory at 65.

5. Authorized City Mar. A. L. Almericants to negotiate with the Marin Municipal Water District the Mill Valley School District for

College Paper Drink Charge Held Ballooned

The Beacon, College of Marin's thrice-weekly student newsletter, yesterday addressed itself to "College of Marin high school students," charged some with drinking at last Friday's football game, and said the Student Union that night was left like a pig-pen.

"For those of you too stinking drunk at the game not to be able to see the score—COM Tars beat Sierra 34-26," the Beacon said.

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond said he thought this was something of an overstatement. Students were well behaved at Friday's game, Diamond said.

The Beacon, edited by student James McCarthy of Hamilton Air Force Base, continued that after most students had gone home Friday night, "I walked into the Student Union and instantly felt sick to my stomach. The reason for this was a wall to wall collection of cigarette butts, empty milk and cake containers, paper of various sizes and shades and dried milk thrown on the floor and tables in unusual amounts."

The newsletter further said that the juke box has been disconnected because two holes had been kicked in the lower part of the machine.

Diamond said the condition of the Student Union could be improved, but it is not so bad as it once was. He said this was another case of overstatement.

The student-run newsletter is produced at the dean of student's office, but it is entirely written and edited by the students, Diamond said.

Accepted a low bid of $3,301 by Shamrock Motors, Mill Valley, to supply two V-8 cars to be used as police cars. Only other bid was from Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet at $3,844.

Authorized city planning consultant John D. Erickson to proceed with application for $18,200 in federal funds for planning, on understanding no money would be spent until next fiscal year.

Agreed "if a letter is necessary" to write to board of supervisors, saying the council favors stopping timber cutting on Point Reyes National Seashore.

Agreed that the mayor write Leo Souza of Tiburon saying the city council supports further study of a Marin transit system.

San Anselmo Planners Lift Fences For Two

The San Anselmo Planning Commission let the fences up on two occasions last night.

Commissioners granted Watkin and Sibbald of San Anselmo permission to construct a six-foot six-inch fence at 100 Sycamore Avenue, a variance from the four-foot limit.

Farley Predicts Win For Kennedy

ATLANTA (UPI) — Peace and prosperity will win for John F. Kennedy in 1964, James A. Farley, an expert on presidential campaigns, said yesterday.

Farley, who managed Franklin D. Roosevelt's winning campaigns in 1936 and 1940, said the civil rights issue will cool off before next year's election.

He told a news conference Kennedy would win a second term by campaigning on strong international position which has maintained world peace and an improving domestic economy.

Commissioners also postponed for a week a public hearing on an application by Anna M. Ghezzi to rezone a lot on Tunstead Avenue, between San Anselmo Avenue and Cedar Street, from residential to commercial.

Under its new policy of splitting long agendas into two sessions, the commission will meet at 8 p.m. Nov. 4.

The Ross School District Board also:

Ross School Sets Ratio For Classes

Ross School District trustees adopted a policy last night that the classroom ratio should be 25 pupils per teacher.

"That's just about what it is now," said Supt. William D. Monahan. "There are only two classes above it."

Trustees are slated to issue a statement next week opposing unification of all school districts in Tamalpais Union High School District. Monahan said the board plans to mail the statement to voters prior to a public hearing on unification Nov. 4.

The Ross School District Board also:

1. Authorized promotion of five-year-old pupils from kindergarten to the first grade if they score in the upper five per cent of their age group, are emotionally mature, and have the permission of their parents.

2. Authorized team teaching in arithmetic in the second and fifth grades.

3. Approved sending achievement test results to parents, where formerly the parents had to go to the school to get results.

4. Heard a report from Monahan that interim reports would be sent to parents of pupils who are having scholastic problems.

Group Seeks Senior Needs From Councils, Planners

and more of the needs in other communities before assigning Phenix to work on the Mill Valley project.

The committee also authorized a survey of housing for the elderly in the county, and members learned that the first news letter for seniors will be out next week.

The group met at the Council of Community Services office in San Rafael.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Many Parties To Be Given Before Charity Ball Saturday

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Many parties will be held in Marin homes as a prelude to the annual Charity Ball Saturday night at the Meadow Club.

Theme of this year's dinner dance, sponsored by the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary, is "A Circus Ball." Mrs. Warren Perry, president of the junior auxiliary, expects her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Newton of Fort Collins, Colo., to attend the party. They are arriving Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cawrewe will entertain a group for cocktails at their home in Ross. Their guest list includes Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed French, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Donoghue, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hewitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones

SNO-QUEEN CANDIDATE

Marin Ski Club has chosen club member Nancy McNally of San Rafael to represent it at the Sno-Queen Ball to be held at the Village in San Francisco on Nov. 9. She will compete with the other ten candidates of the Bay Area ski clubs in the Bay Area Council of the Far West Ski Assn. sponsored dance. When not on the ski slopes Miss McNally is employed as a secretary in San Francisco.

Marion P-TA Frolic Set For Friday

The "Pumpkin Frolic" will be the theme of this year's Marion School Parent-Teacher Assn. Halloween Festival. The festival will be held at the school in Novato between the hours of 5 and 9 p.m., on Friday.

Money raised from the festival will pay for the new safety patrol uniforms now being worn by the patrol boys at the school.

Mrs. George Whitten, general chairman will be assisted by Mesdames Richard Beale, John Haines, Earl Marshall, Jefferson Childs, Joseph Kirby, Kent Bulfinch and T. E. Pilkington.

Two new booths have been added this year—a bake shop and a next to new shop.

Booth chairmen are room mothers. They are Mesdames Donald Saunders, Manuel Soares, C. C. Bunds Jr., John Atwood, James Cermak, William Kiner, Henry Karpie, Pilkington, Charles Loveland, Kirby, Wesley Amweg, William Bowen and Lawrence Cey.

Also, Mesdames Robert Morse, Robert Listman, James Martin, Robert Metzker, Clarence McCutcheon and Doug McNeil.

FESTIVAL HOSTESSES ANNOUNCED

The Garden Society of Marin will stage its annual "Fall Flower Festival" Saturday and Sunday at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

General chairman Mrs. Robert L. Tuckey, who has been active in the flower shows at the Center since their inception as a small "chrysanthemum tea," named the following members of the garden group as hostesses.

Mesdames Linton Whitby, George Beine, LeRoy Dowdell, E. E. Cable, Roland Bessy, Marius Righetti, C. J. Flack, Adele Higgins, Claude Robinson, Eugene Robinson, Roy Rhodes, Marion Van Meurs, R. H. Worsley.

Hours for the event, designed by George Murata, landscape designer, around a "Oriental Serenity" theme will be from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

In charge of the cut flower section of the show will be Mrs. Flack, assisted by Mrs. G. G. Curto.

Potted plants, including spectacular cascading chrysanthemums, huge specimen types, and other unusual types will be arranged under the direction of Mrs. Cable, assisted by Miss Eleanor Doll.

Duplicate Bridge Benefit Thursday

With proceeds earmarked for the United Cerebral Palsy Assn. and American Cancer Society, the Thursday Afternoon Bridge Club, which meets weekly at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, will have an American Contract Bridge League charity party Thursday.

Mrs. Sim Dever of Ross is chairman for the lunch, to be served at noon, Duplicate bridge will begin at 12:30 p.m., announces Mrs. Cleone Myers of Kentfield, club director. All duplicate bridge players are invited.

Charles Marcus, Mr. and Mrs. Philander Beadle, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kurland, their son, Jerry, who is one of the Dunhill Dancers, and Mrs. Charles Block.

MR. AND MRS. R. W. HARVEY, residents of Strawberry for eight years, and parents of two daughters, Patricia and Ann, have bought a new home in Little Reed Heights.

MRS. HAROLD E. GREEN of Little Reed Heights entertained at a farewell luncheon for Mrs. J. E. Christian of Belvedere. Mr. and Mrs. Christian and their two daughters, Gayle and Linda, are going to Okinawa the latter part of October. Mr. Christian will be project manager for Alcan Construction Company in Okinawa.

Guests at the luncheon, in addition to Mrs. Christian, were Mesdames Paul Brown, Spence Prange, Rod Blakey, Lester Gorsline and Clark Holmes all of Tiburon.

Tips On Etiquette In Travel

On a short trip or a long one, you will get greater satisfaction from the people you meet, and increase your own poise and pleasure as well, if you have a firm grip on some basic rules of travel etiquette.

AT THE AIRPORT, allow at least three quarters of an hour to check in.

If you can possibly do so, weigh your luggage at home to avoid excess baggage and last-minute payment. The people behind you on line will love you for it.

Porters at the terminal entrances who help you to the check-in desks are tipped, as are those who carry any luggage for you beyond baggage-claim areas on return home. The tip usually given is twenty-five cents per piece of luggage.

PEOPLE WHO ARE never tipped include reservations clerks, stewards and hostesses aboard planes, and the ground hostesses who attend arrivals and departures to act as interpreters, help passengers through customs, and arrange flight connections.

The hostess has been carefully selected and trained to help you. She can supply games and coloring books for children, and aids mothers with infants.

BUT KNOW WHAT she can't do: for example, she is not allowed to mix baby formulas, though she will warm up the bottle. Hostesses on international flights can usually chat with you in any one of three languages—but be wary about monopolizing her time which is shared with all the passengers.

How much friendliness toward a seat-mate is expected of the person traveling alone? Some small talk at mealtimes is usual; the rest of the time you can chat, read a book, nap—or just gaze out the window—without breaching etiquette. It's not bad manners, but

BY HAVING A FIRM grip on some of the basic rules of travel etiquette, you will get greater satisfaction from simply self-preservation, to turn off a bore with monosyllabic answers. But no matter how personable the stranger, it may be a good idea—particularly if you're a woman traveling alone—not to be too specific about your travel plans.

When lights are lowered in the plane, those who don't wish to settle down for the night should avoid loud talking that might keep others awake.

You say goodbye to the steward or hostess in attendance at the ramp when disembarking.

THE MAN WHO opens the door of the cab and sets bags on the curb usually does no more than call a bellhop to take over. Generally, you need tip him only if he helps unload heavy and an extensive amount of baggage, or assists you into the hotel itself. For calling a taxi in front of the hotel, the doorman gets a quarter; make it fifty cents or more if he must battle weather or traffic to get you a cab.

THE STANDARD TIP for a bellhop is a quarter if he is able to carry all the luggage in one trip; figure another quarter for each extra trip. He gets a quarter for delivering telegrams or packages to your room. If the valet himself delivers clothes that have been pressed or cleaned, he is tipped: he operates a concession.

The tip for the chambermaid is 25 to 50 cents a night, depending on the quality of the hotel. When a guest stays a week or two, she usually receives a dollar a week for each bedroom.

Fire Drills In Suburban Home Saves Children From Suffocation

By MARGERY McELHENY

ELMHURST, Ill. (UPI)—Two thousand children die in home fires in the United States every year and the five Hendrich kids might have been among them if it hadn't been for father.

Father, who is Robert Hendrich, has been holding fire drills in his suburban Elmhurst home for years just "because I thought it was a good idea."

IT WAS A very good idea. It probably saved the lives of some of the children. Maybe all of them.

The fire drill began for real at 5:38 a.m. Oct. 1. William, 6, was sleeping in the bedroom he shared with brother Michael, 10. Across the hall were Mary Lee, 8, and Robert Jr., 3. Their parents and Kristen, 2, slept downstairs.

The electric wiring in the wall of William's bedroom was defective. Flames started up close to his feet and the heat awakened him.

William could have panicked. Instead, he followed the first fire drill rule laid down by his father He yelled "fire."

William's cry awakened Michael and the children in the other room. His father, who had an intercom network between the children's room and his own, heard the cry.

He met the children on the staircase as they walked to safety.

THE ENTIRE FAMILY cleared the home within two minutes of the alarm. Three minutes later, when Hendrich rushed to the burning room with a fire extinguisher, he could not get near it because of the heat.

The fire department arrived minutes later, but the room and other sections of the home were extensively damaged.

If the children had not acted swiftly, "within another three or four minutes they probably would have suffocated," Hendrich said.

"IT'S SO EASY for a child to panic if he doesn't know what to do. They really saved themselves," he said.

Hendrich said no member of the family had ever been involved in a fire before.

The National Safety Council in Chicago took a direct interest in the Hendrichs fire. In 1962, there were 6,300 fire deaths and almost 2,000 of them involved children under 15.

Hans Grigo, technical consultant for the home department of the Safety Council, said children under 15 are slow to think of escape methods in emergencies.

"That is why we feel fire drill is extremely important."

"GENERALLY, if a person is given alternatives for reaction, he will react satisfactorily, despite a natural fear that causes people to hide."

The Hendrich children

learned not to hide. In their drills they also learned various methods of escape. They practiced them in regular and surprise drills.

"We have a discussion, if not a fire drill once a month," Hendrich said. "We tell the children that the first thing to do is to shout 'fire,' then, if they can get around the flames, to proceed downstairs."

IF THERE IS a wall of fire, the children were told not to try to cross through it, but to stand at the window and wait.

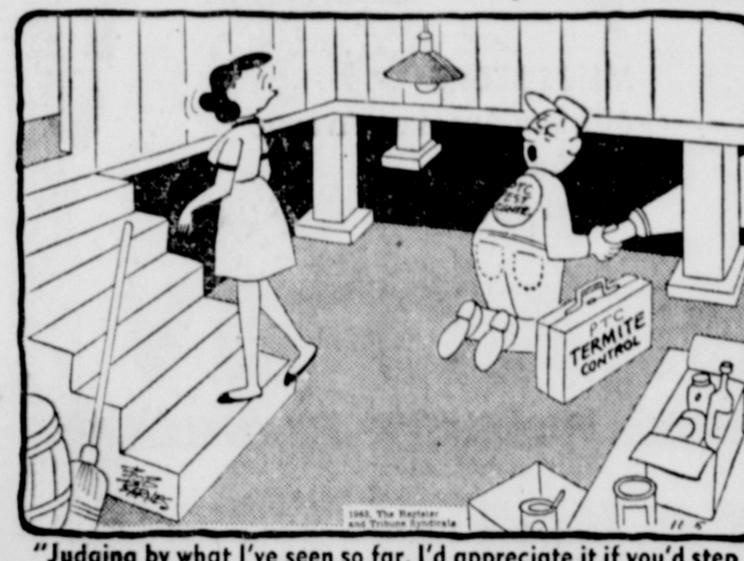

If the fire is approaching and they can't wait, Hendrich told the youngsters to break the windows with a chair, a shoe or any other object, and wait until rescuers put a ladder up to the window.

We reassure them that someone will be there quickly to help."

The children were not frightened when the real fire came, Hendrich said.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

I once asked the proud father of two wonderfully adjusted children what he thought were the best guides to good parenthood. Without a moment's hesitation he said: "Patience, perception and playfulness." Nice to have a father's viewpoint and such a good one, too.

Two-way plan. Fullest enjoyment of a baby comes when both parents share in the fun and fanfare of baby care. And the biggest rewards for dads come when they spend some time alone with their heirs or heiresses. If dad's too tired at night to take over, why not plan some Saturday time for baby and dad while you have a fling at shopping or something?

Wise words and true from a sensible mother: "It took me a long time to realize that Laurel ate more, and with more relish, when I stopped coaxing and clock-watching and started feeding her when she indicated she was really hungry."

THE AMERICAN HUSBAND

'She's Nagging Me To Death'

Second of four articles on the American husband.

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ninety per cent of the American men who go to psychiatrists or matrimonial counselors in an attempt to save their marriages open up their bag of troubles with this statement: "She's nagging me to death."

Experts do not challenge the accusation that the American wife is a nagger, but they do divide nagging into two categories—benevolent and malignant. Benevolent nagging is insisting that he wear his overshoes through a snow storm and have a physical check-up once a year. It springs from love and a desire to keep him healthy. A man who complains to the psychiatrist about benevolent nagging is almost certain to be the offending party in the forthcoming smash-up of the marriage.

MALIGNANT nagging is demanding repeatedly that he do something about a situation that at the moment cannot be changed. Like insisting he change jobs when no other job is in sight or demanding he buy a dish washing machine when there is no cash available and his credit is strained to the breaking point.

The American divorce rate is the highest in the world. Not all divorces result from quarrels over money, but enough of them do to make an examination of the family financial set-up imperative to anybody who is trying to save the marriage. As soon as he is married the average American husband starts spending $400 a year more than he earns. The amount can get bigger and the situation can last for as long as 20 years, depending on how addicted the family is to installment buying.

THE ARRIVAL of children increases the rate of spending and heightens the debt until, as Martha Lear says in her book "The Child Worshippers," American families have a tendency "to spend themselves into a financial sewer." And the husband starts casting about for aid and comfort. He can heed Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's admonition to think positively and he has easy access to Dale Carnegie's "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living," but his problem is financial, not philosophical.

"A MAN is so constituted," writes Dr. Joseph H. Peck on the subject on nagging, "that he must have someone to believe in him to succeed at anything. I have seen good men ruined due to their wives nagging them because the status symbols were not accumulating fast enough. When a woman makes up her mind that her husband is a failure and informs him of the fact, he becomes a failure indeed. There is nothing more depressing for a doctor than to try to treat such a man . . . he develops symptoms of every disease in the book and is more difficult to help because subconsciously he doesn't want to get well."

THERE ARE, of course, millions of husbands and wives who budget their income wisely, restrain urges to buy things they cannot afford, let other people do the keeping up with the Joneses and live happily ever after. But for the man who spends himself into trouble or allows his wife to do so the daily routine can become hell.

Nothing is too small to nag about. The wife will complain to him three times a day about dropping cigarette ashes on the rug when a couple of dime store ash trays would solve the problem. Nagging becomes a two-way street and the husband remarks bitterly that the furniture sure is pretty but there isn't a comfortable chair in the house.

The American Institute of Family Relations has charted the three times during the day when nagging is most likely to explode into a quarrel (1) Just before dinner when the husband is tired and wants to relax. (2) At bedtime when the wife wants to get a problem settled before going to sleep. (3) At breakfast. It cites a survey of bus and truck drivers which found that most traffic accidents occur in the first hour of the day, frequently because angry husbands burst out of driveways recklessly or exceed the speed limit on the way to work.

IN CONSIDERING other reasons besides money for nagging and quarreling, the Institute lists complaints about husbands from thousands of wives in this order: He is selfish. He is untruthful. He drinks too much. He complains too much. He does not show his affection. He does not talk things over. He is harsh with the children or else he takes no interest in them. He is touchy. He shows no interest in our home.

OUR TEMPERS apparently are closer to the surface than most of us realize, and Dr. Joseph Popenoe of the institute surveyed several hundred men and women to find out why they got mad. He found men lost their tempers on an average of six times a week and women three. Men are most likely to get mad at inanimate objects—a flat tire or bumping into a door in the dark. Women most frequently get mad at people. Either way, a little bit of nagging when the other person is angry is a sure-fire formula for producing a quarrel.

Experts are interested in how many American women marry for money rather than love, but nobody has come up with a device for producing reliable statistics.

YOUNG ELEGANTE

Larry Aldrich shows you how to fashionably keep to the straight and narrow! Slenderly styled for light or night in Onondaga's matelasse of Celanese acetate and rayon, this wildy simple shaft of shift could be equally adaptable on either side of 6 o'clock. Designed with a hip-hugging belt encrusted with crystal and a definite look of fashion immediacy . . . distinctly for the woman who's in no doubt about what's right for when!

Awareness Hears Of Need For Change In Abortion Laws

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Need for a change in abortion laws and difficulties involved were explained by Dr. John W. Binckley at yesterday afternoon's luncheon meeting of the Awareness Group in the Mill Valley home of Mrs. Edmund Gross.

The Mill Valley gynecologist and obstetrician is a former medical director for planned Parenthood in Marin and last year was chairman of the committee on sterilization and therapeutic abortion at Marin General Hospital.

Defining "abortion" under the three classes of (1) Spontaneous (2) Legal or therapeutic and (3) Illegal or criminal, Dr. Binckley confined his discussion to the second and third.

In about 33 states, he said, the law (article 274 of the California penal code) permits abortion only "when there is risk or hazard to life."

"THE VAST majority of therapeutic abortions in California are thus illegal," he said. "No district attorney has ever prosecuted a reputable physician who has done a therapeutic abortion when it has been performed in proper manner with well corroborated evidence, regardless of whether from a technical point of view it is illegal. But it is quite possible it could happen," he emphasized.

To illustrate the various kinds of therapeutic abortions and current practices Dr. Binckley cited data from the 1959 Gampel study. This was based on 26 returns of questionnaires sent to 29 committees on sterilization and abortion in California.

Although most would be illegal if the law were strictly applied, results showed that a high percentage would either find them acceptable or believed that some other committee would do so under current practice.

"THERE OUGHT to be some some liberalization of the laws so that the vast majority of therapeutic abortions would be legal," the physician said. "Why put the doctor under the risk of prosecution?"

THE SPEAKER made it clear that he was not discussing the religious aspects of abortion.

Newlyweds Reside In San Rafael

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mayerchak (Susan Beers), who were married Oct. 6 at St. Raphael's Church, are living in a San Rafael apartment. The Rev. John Petroni officiated at the double ring ceremony which was followed by a reception at the San Rafael Improvement Club.

For her wedding Sue wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie, the bodice embroidered with seed pearls.

The maid of honor, Carol Neal of Larkspur and the bridesmaids, Linda Menke of Belvedere and Jill Kerrigan of San Rafael, wore emerald green peau de soie sheaths with bouffant over skirts. Barbara Ann and Diana Lee Waters, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls. Richard Waters of Petaluma, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man. Ushers were Jerry Morgan of San Rafael and Keith Chapman of San Anselmo were ushers.

The bridegroom has two sisters, Mrs. Waters and Mrs. J. B. Nuckols, who lives in San Rafael.

The young couple honeymooned in Carmel and Catalina Island. The announcement of the engagement was made in June.

Marin Women

Independent-Journal, Tuesday, Oct. 22, 1963 17

This is one of a new series of informative reports on the unique advantages of print media presented by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Most people do.

They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example. People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

People read an ad because they want to (it's never forced on them). They can even check back later; the message is still there.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of consumers, print makes sales.

Most people read and then buy. Don't you?
